Brief Route Details / Points of Particular Interest

This route was created with the help of local school children as a healthy walk. There are a number of sculptures along the way and it is waymarked with Raglan Local Ways waymarkers and the wooden Raglan Healthy Footsteps plaque as shown in the picture.

This route uses the relatively flat, open ground to the south of the village. From the church go down Chepstow Road until you reach a gate on the left, follow the track and then the gates from one field to another until you reach the busier Monmouth Road. Turn left and go carefully along the road to the church.

On a good day there are views of Raglan Castle and the Sugar Loaf from this walk. Also look out for the fruity benches designed by local school children.
