Cil-y-coed: Cestyll a Chefn gwlad

Mae 'Caldicot' sy'n golygu lloches gynnes, wedi ei gofnodi yn Llyfr Domesday sy'n nodi

'Mae Siryf Durand yn dal un rhandir o eiddo'r Brenin yng Nghaerwent sy'n dwyn yr enw Caldicote. Yno yn ei feddiant mae ganddo tri aradr, phymtheg bilain, pedwar o daeogion ac un milwr arfog. Mae ganddynt oll ddeuddeg aradr, dyma ddaliad o ddeg swllt, mae'r cyfan oll werth chwe phunt.' (cyfeithiad)

Cestyll

Credir mai Ballan Moor D yw safle gwreiddiol castell Cil-y-coed, gyda'i strwythur o arddull tomen a beili, a adeiladwyd yn yr unfed ganrif ar ddeg.

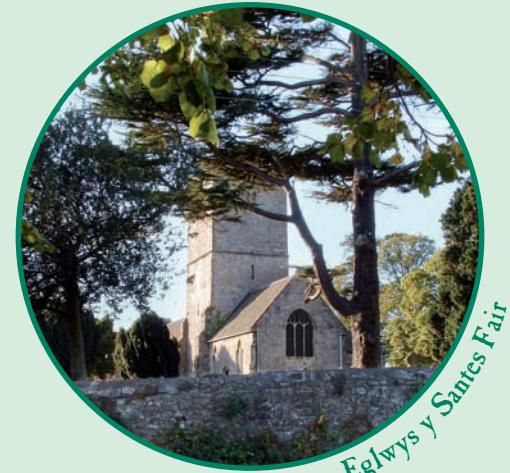

Nodwyd mewn arolwg a gynhalwyd ym 1770, a oedd yn cynnwys holl diroedd, rhandiroedd, melinau, coedwigoedd, afonydd, pysgota, gwrychoedd a ffosydd, mai £8.3s a 11 ceiniog oedd gwerth Ballan Moor!

Mae Castell Cil-y-coed A fel y mae heddiw yn adeilad o'r ddeuddegfed ganrif sydd yn sefyll o fewn Parc Gwledig o 60 erw.

Credir bod Gorthwr y castell wedi cael ei adeiladu o gwmpas 1122 gan Milo Fitzwalter, Iarll Henffordd. Ym 1158 fe ddaeth y castell i feddiant teulu de Bohun ac yna Thomas Woodstock, mab ieuengaf Brenin Edward III drwy briodas i Alianore de Bohun, ac yna i ddwylo amrywiol aelodau brenhinol tan iddo ddod i feddiant teulu'r Lewis o St Pierre ym 1857. Ym 1885 gwerthwyd yr adfeilion i JR Cobb, hynafiaethydd cyfoethog a aeth ati i'w adfer, hyd nes i'r teulu werthu'r castell i'r awdurdod lleol ym 1963 ac mae'n parhau yn eu meddiant hyd heddiw.

Honnir bod nifer o fwganod ac ysbrydion gan gynnwys dynes lwyd, mynachod cwflog ac ysbryd swnllyd yn aflonyddu ar Gastell Cil-y-coed. Mae yna Deithiau Ysbrydion a Nosweithiau Arswyd ar gael i ymwelwyr sy'n dymuno blasu'r profiad hyn drostyn nhw eu hunain.

Eglwys y Santes Fair

Teulu'r Cobb oedd perchnogion olaf tŷ anferth sy'n cael ei alw'n "The Homestead" B neu'r 'Tyddyn'. Cafodd ei adeiladu gan C H Walker (peiriannwr Twnnel Hafren). Cafodd ei ddefnyddio'n ddiweddarach fel cartref i ferched, ac yna fel ysbty adeg y Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf. Heddiw, mae yna goedlan yn ei le, oherwydd yn ôl Mrs Cobb roedd yn rhwystro'i golygfa o'r castell, felly cafodd ei ddymchwel.

Mae teulu'r Cobb wedi eu claddu yn Eglwys y Santes Fair F, adeilad sy'n dyddio o'r ddeuddegfed ganrif, ond a ddatblygwyd ymhellach yn ystod y bedwaredd ganrif ar ddeg, a'r bymthegfed ganrif.

Maenor Llanddewi Nant Hodni

Adeilad arwyddocaol arall yw Maenor Llanddewi Nant Hodni E. Cafodd ei adeiladu gan fynachod Abaty Llanddewi Nant Hodni fel ail faenor Llanddewi Nant Hodni. Cartref preifat ydyw erbyn hyn a dyma'r unig adeilad o'i fath sy'n bodoli yng Nghil-y-coed heddiw.

Cefn Gwlad a'i Hanesion...
I'r gogledd o Gastell Cil-y-coed mae Dyffryn Neddern C, ardal ddynodedig o Ddiddordeb Gwyddonol Arbennig (SSSI). Mae'n gorlifo yn rheolaidd felly'n denu amrywiaeth o fywyd gwylt ac adar dŵr yn enwedig elyrch, arwyddlon Cil-y-coed.

Yn y 1860au, fe wnaeth Henry Jones trigolyn enwog a oedd yn byw yn Fferm y Cwrt G, gychwyn busnes fel gwerthwr blawd. Fe ddyfeisiodd ddull o greu blawd codi a ddefnyddiwyd i wella ansawdd y bara adeg Rhyfel y Crimea. Roedd y Frenhines Victoria ymhliith y cyntaf i ddefnyddio'r blawd ac o ganlyniad penodwyd Henry Jones yn werthwr blawd a bisgedi i Ei Mawrhydi.

Roedd y Brodyr Charles a John Wesley, sylfaenwyr y mudiad Methodistaidd, yn enwog am bregethu yng Nghil-y-coed, o bosib yn y 'Cross' H.

Yng nghofnod siwrrnol John Wesley ceir nodyn ar 21 Hydref 1794 yn datgan, "Tua un o'r gloch deuthum i Callicute a phregethu i gwmni bach o bobl sylwgar".

Caldicot: Castles and Countryside

Caldicot, meaning warm shelter, is recorded in the Domesday book. It notes

'The sheriff Durand holds of the king in Caerwent one tenement called Caldicote. He has there in demesne three ploughs and fifteen semi villeins and four serfs and one man-at-arms. All these have twelve ploughs. Here is a mill of ten shillings all this is worth six pounds.'

Castles

Ballan Moor D is believed to be the original site of Caldicot castle, hosting a motte and bailey style structure probably built in the 11th century. It was noted in the survey conducted in 1770, which included all lands, tenements, mills, woods, rivers, fishing, hedges and ditches that Ballan Moor was valued at £8.3s and 11d!

The current day Caldicot Castle A is a 12th Century building and sits within a 60 acre Country Park.

The Castle keep was thought to have been built around 1122 by Milo Fitzwalter, Earl of Hereford. In 1158 the castle passed to the de Bohun family, and then to Thomas Woodstock, youngest son of King Edward III through marriage to Alianore de Bohun, and then through various royal hands until it passed to the Lewis family of St Pierre in 1857. In 1885 the ruins were sold to JR Cobb, a wealthy antiquarian, who set about restoring them, until the family sold the castle to the local authority in 1963 and it has been owned by them ever since.

A number of ghosts and spirits including a grey lady, hooded monks and a poltergeist reputedly haunt Caldicot Castle. Ghost Tours and Fright Nights are available to visitors wishing to experience these mysterious goings-on for themselves.

The Cobb family were also the last owners of a large house known as "The Homestead" B. It was built by C H Walker (the engineer of the Severn Tunnel) and was later used as a home for girls, and then a World War One hospital. Today in its place is a copse of trees, as Mrs Cobb deemed it a blot to her view from the castle and had it pulled down.

The Cobb family is now buried in St Mary's Church F, a 12th century building, but with further developments made during 14th and 15th centuries.

Another significant 12th century building is Llanthony Secunda Manor E. It was built by the monks at Llanthony Abbey as the second manor of Llanthony.

Llanthony Secunda Manor

It is now a private residence and is the only building of its type remaining in Caldicot.

Countryside & it's Stories...

North of Caldicot Castle is the Neddern Valley,  a designated Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI). It regularly floods, so attracting a wide variety of wildlife and water fowl, particularly swans, the insignia for Caldicot.

In the 1860s, famous inhabitant Henry Jones, who lived at Court House Farm , started a business as a purveyor of flour. He invented a method of making self raising flour which was then used to improve the quality of bread in the Crimean War. Queen Victoria was an early user of the flour and as such Henry Jones was appointed purveyor of patent flour and biscuits to Her Majesty.

Brothers Charles and John Wesley, founders of the Methodist movement, are both known to have preached in Caldicot, possibly at 'The Cross' .

John Wesley's journal notes on October 21st 1794, states "About one of the clock I came to Callicute and preached to a small attentive company of people".
